INTERNATIONAL COUNCIL of SECURITIES ASSOCIATIONS

afme/

Svensk Värdepappersmarknad
Swedish Securities Markets Association

Founded in 1988, ICSA is the global organization of securities industry associations representing firms across the world including East and West Asia, Latin America, North America, and Europe.

ICSA is the only true representative of the global securities industry.

ICSA provides members with market intelligence, a stronger voice, and increased impact by

- serving as a forum to understand developments, exchange views and practices, and collaborate to work for better global capital markets
- advocating appropriate regulatory policies, regulations, and initiatives across jurisdictions to promote efficient and well-functioning securities markets and the flow of cross-border capital
- assisting regulators and government authorities in understanding the global, consolidated, and non-biased position of the industry as it relates to proposed policy and regulatory reform

As IOSCO brings together the world's securities regulators to develop and implement internationally recognized standards for securities regulation, ICSA is ideally suited to work closely with them to provide market perspectives and positions. ICSA has built relationships with the Financial Stability Board, the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision, and the OECD.

This brochure includes a recent essay by our Chairman, member testimonials, fee information, and contact details. Appendices include the full list of members and past ICSA annual meetings locations and sample programs. Members have always found these gatherings to be highly valuable and rewarding.

Consultation responses and research published by ICSA and links to member information, statistics, and events can be found on dedicated sections of our website www.icsa.global.

The International Council of Securities Associations (ICSA)

Contribution to Global Capital Markets

*Urban Funered, Chairman
Swedish Securities Markets Association*

In response to the rapid globalization of finance, the International Council of Securities Associations (ICSA) was established in 1988 by securities associations from Asia, North America, and Europe to provide a forum to develop common regulatory positions to promote more integrated capital markets. Members also exchange views on market intelligence and industry best practices.

Over time, the International Organization of Securities Commissions (IOSCO) has played an increasingly important role in providing policy direction to independent jurisdictions in areas such as investor protection, transparency, derivatives and commodities, clearing, market conduct, fintech, and cybersecurity. ICSA has engaged actively with IOSCO – based in Madrid – to provide an industry perspective on policy positions and the direction of future proposals. ICSA has also worked in cooperation with the Basel Committee on Banking Supervision and the OECD.

The ICSA role as interlocutor for the global securities industry expanded dramatically in the years following the 2008 financial crisis. The G20 directions for reform, beginning in 2009, and the formation of the Financial Stability Board, set the direction and stepped up the tempo of regulatory reform, notably in OTC derivatives markets following the seize-up in short-term repo and securities lending markets, the collapse in the asset-backed securities markets, the lack of adequate disclosure of derivative products and absence of centralized clearing and settlement. The G20 and FSB also focused on measures to mitigate systemic risks in the banking and shadow banking systems.

ICSA coordinated discussions and developed a consensus view among member firms on the trading and clearing reforms on OTC derivative reform in Europe and the United States. ICSA was one of the first global organizations to urge greater cooperation and coordination in rule-making across jurisdictions to mitigate blockages in cross-border transactions from conflicting and duplicative regulation. Once it became evident these regulations related to trading and clearing in OTC markets were evolving in a disjointed manner and contributing to market fragmentation, ICSA endorsed remedial solutions such as regulatory recognition and jurisdictional deference, substituted compliance, and passporting, as solutions to lower regulatory barriers and lower costs.

As a priority initiative, ICSA assisted in the formation of and provided the Secretariat for a global financial consultation group – the Cross-Border Regulation Forum (CBRF) – in response to the IOSCO decision to strike a Task Force on Cross Border Regulation. The CBRF published two papers, one in mid-2014 setting out a fundamental position on cross-border reform and a second in early 2015 in response to a formal IOSCO consultation paper. IOSCO recognised the value of ICSA’s practical inputs which contributed to their final recommendations.

ICSA has responded to consultations on liquidity, conduct, and implementation of regulations. ICSA has provided authorities and regulators with valuable insights by surveying its global membership on topics such as culture and conduct, cybersecurity, transparency, and MiFID II.

An ICSA Working Group has contributed greatly on the topic of the cost of market data, given concerns that limited competition in the markets for benchmarks and indices, credit ratings, and trading data may be increasing costs for investors and affecting investment choices.

ICSA’s Emerging Markets Committee has had much success on a number of fronts, such as setting out a framework for building functional credit markets, developing derivatives markets, and analysing the process of regulatory impact assessment in emerging countries. Each year the EMC publishes a research report, with last year’s topic being Investor Protection. In 2021, the EMC produced Development of Emerging Capital Markets to highlight priorities and initiatives being taken to close gaps and develop capital markets in ICSA Emerging Market Committee member jurisdictions.

To maintain high levels of engagement, ICSA meets with both IOSCO and the FSB.

ICSA organizes bilateral meetings with Standing Committee Chairs and Board Members at the IOSCO annual conference. These meetings continued uninterrupted in virtual format throughout the pandemic.

ICSA brings together its global membership on a quarterly basis through Virtual Briefings, where experts across associations share insights on key topics such as sustainability, crypto-assets/CBDC, NBFI, sanctions, clearing, and T+1.

ICSA members are greatly anticipating the Interim Meeting in Mumbai in October and the 2024 AGM & Conference in Frankfurt in May, where members will interact with regulators and government officials on issues including ESG finance, Non-bank Financial Institutions, Fintech and Reg-tech, Crypto-assets, Investor Protection, and European Banking and Capital Markets Union.

The priorities of Swedish Presidency of the Council of the European Union concluding on 30 June 2023 have been to continue the fight against international crime by advancing the efforts to tackle money laundering and the financing of terrorism, create an open and competitive capital markets union to strengthen the internal market, bolster the green transition, and ensure high consumer and investor protection and transparency.

ICSA will continue to firmly make the case that greater consistency in rules implementation and achieving an effective substituted compliance framework are vital in making for safe and efficient global capital markets.

MEMBER TESTIMONIALS

“ICSA membership is now essential to being able to serve our member firms, as global regulatory standards are increasingly setting the framework for our domestic regulation.”

“It is vital that we both understand and have some capacity to influence market standards on a global basis.”

“Through collective effort through ICSA, we can better explain to regional and national decision makers how potential changes effect other countries, and the global economy...”

“It is invaluable to discuss with other members around the world how they have approached and implemented new market standards and regulations.”

“One of my members contacted us with technical compliance questions about another region. I contacted the relevant ICSA member who engaged the experts within his association. They didn’t know the answers straight away – the questions were far from straight forward - but very kindly went away and investigated and came back with a very comprehensive response. Our member firm was delighted.”

“With the sharp political and regulatory response to the Global Financial Crisis, ICSA has never been more important as a means for its member organisations to share information on market developments and regulatory actions, engage in a joint industry dialogue with global standard setting bodies (like IOSCO), and press for government policies to recognise the critical dependence of economic growth on effective financial markets.”

| 1:00 - 2:15 p.m.  | Panel on Cross-Border Regulation, Equivalence and Extra-Territoriality: Past, Present and Future It is almost 13 years since G20 Leaders committed 'to raise standards together so that our national authorities implement global standards consistently in a way that ensures a level playing field and avoids fragmentation of markets, protectionism, and regulatory arbitrage'. This panel will be an opportunity for international experts to assess regulators performance against that objective, as well as to consider what the pledge means for the current financial regulatory agenda including issues around sustainable finance, crypto-currency and more.                                                                                                                                                            | ModeratorKyle Brandon, SIFMA PanelistsMichael Sterzenbach, Bundesverband der Wertpapierfirmen e.V.Paul A. | 2:15 - 3:30 p.m.  | Panel on China and the United States: Tensions, Financial Services and Cross-Border Impacts Policymakers have pursued an active agenda vis-à-vis China in recent years. In 2020, the Phase One Agreement enshrined new levels of market access in China for U.S. financial institutions. But recent years have also seen action from both the Congress and Executive Branch to address perceived challenges from China, many of which impact the cross-border capital markets. And, in recent months, economic tools have been at the forefront of the U.S. response to the Russian invasion of Ukraine. This panel will be an opportunity to consider these and related developments, their impact on international finance and what the future may hold in terms of the relationship between geo-politics and financial services. | ModeratorPeter Matheson, SIFMA PanelistsCraig Allen, U.S. China Business CouncilMartin Chorzempa, Peterson Institute for International EconomicsDoug Bell (EY)Clay Lowery Institute of International Finance |

| 8:05 - 9:00 a.m.   | Session on U.S. Politics and outlook for the Mid-Terms and Beyond: Implications for Capital Markets When SIFMA was originally scheduled to host ICSA in 2020, it was a Presidential Election year. But 2022 are the elections for the 118th Congress and U.S. midterm contests can be every bit as fascinating. Two of SIFMA's expert consultants will set the scene and consider the implications for the global industry.           | Panelists Chris Miller, Crossroad Strategies Salim Alameddine, Crossroad Strategies                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
| 9:00 - 10:15 a.m.  | Panel on Crypto Currencies and Digital Assets Digital assets are clearly front and center of the agenda both here in the United States and on the global stage; all jurisdictions have been very active both in industry and the official sector. This panel will be an opportunity to survey where the crypto agenda has gotten to, the outlook, and the potential implications for financial institutions operating across borders. | Moderator Charles DeSimone, SIFMA Panelists Douglas J.
